Martin Furlan, 72 Of Rural Antioch Killed in Store

Found Choked to Death in His Food-Liquor Store
Last Thursday

Martin Furlan, 72, a resident of Depot street at Loon Lake road, was found slain early Thursday in his bedroom at the rear of his food and liquor store, 303 Mannheim rd., Bellwood. He had been choked and beaten.

Police said the crime apparently was committed by burglars who forced a door into an adjoining utilities shed, and then another door between the shed and the building proper.

Although his family lived on the far east of Antioch, Mr. Furlan often spent nights at the store and divided his time between the store and the farm. A son, Michael, who helped him operate the store, found his lifeless body at 5:45 a. m. when he went to work.

The slayers emptied a cedar chest in which Mr. Furlan kept checks and cash which represented proceeds of the business. Police thought that several hundred dollars probably were taken. The store and his room were ransacked thoroughly.

Martin Furlan was born in Yugoslavia and migrated to Chicago. He came to the Antioch area more than 25 years ago and he and his wife, Matilda, raised their family here.

Surviving besides Mrs. Furlan are six sons, John of Loon Lake road, Martin, Jr., of California, Nicholas of the home, Thomas of rural Antioch, Henry of Hillside, Michael of Bellwood, and two daughters, Mrs. Katie Nagavars, Berkeley, Ill., and Mary Ferris of near Antioch.

The funeral service was held at 9:30 a. m. today at St. Simeon's church at 430 Bohland st., Bellwood, where the body was taken from the Rosewood Undertaking establishment at 45th street and St. Charles road.

Channel Lake Plans Annual Fishing Derby For Sunday, Jan. 12

Channel Lake will stage its third fishing derby Sunday, Jan. 12.

The Channel Lake Community club which already is selling tickets for this popular event, announced that the proceeds will be used for community betterment.

A grand prize of $50 will be awarded to the person catching the largest game fish. In addition there will be prizes for the largest bluegill, perch, crappie, and bass.

All fish entered must be caught on Channel lake, and state fishing laws will govern, especially as to the minimum size of game fish.

In the two years previous the ice has been such that the fish were all caught through the ice. Unless there is colder weather than this past week the contestants may have to fish in boats, but that is not likely.

Miss Joan Topercer, a student at Our Lady of Angels school at Clinton, Iowa, is enjoying Christmas vacation in Antioch with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Topercer.

POST OFFICE CLOSSES XMAS

Practically all of the Christmas mail for Antioch has been delivered, said Postmaster Roy Kufalk as he and the postal employees prepared to take Christmas Day off. Only the lobby will be open at the post office Wednesday morning for the benefit of the 275 lock box renters, and the windows will not be open. Kufalk said that for the first time, there will be no deliveries on New Year's Day.

Cunningham Home Wins 1st Prize For Xmas Decorations

The home of Mayor Murrill Cunningham won first prize in the annual home decorating contest conducted by the Moose Lodge and Women of the Moose.

The feature of the display was a beautiful star placed on the roof of the house which appeared to be in the sky, a sleigh with Santa and his reindeer in the yard and "A Merry Christmas" in colored lights.

The Edwin Runnfeldt home on Winsor drive won second place, with a well lighted home. Third prize was won by the Chuck Larson home.

Receiving honorable mention were the Laurel Van Patten, Jr., home on Naber avenue, Harry Brehen, Sr., and Art Letkey, both of Oakwood Knolls.

Many homes were decorated this year. All of the homes on Winsor Drive are well decorated.

Serving as judges were J. Donald Chiappetta, 1048 Main st., Mrs. H. B. Gaston, 654 North Main st., and George Borovicka. However, due to illness, George was not able to serve.

As has been the custom for several years, the winners of the first three prizes received hand painted plates, painted by Mrs. Earl J. Hays of Antioch.

Ray Webb was taken to Victory Memorial hospital Saturday for medical treatment.

Business was back to normal today at the Willow Dale Dairy Co. plant, 755 Corona Ave., following a fire at 10:45 p. m. Friday in which the offices in the lower floor of the north portion of the plant were gutted.

Electricians within a few hours after the fire had the plant's power fully in use and telephone men had telephones in working order.

The second floor which had been used as a store room, has been converted to temporary offices until the damage estimated at $10,000 to the lower floor can be repaired. Records in a safe were unharmed.

Great credit is given to the speedy and efficient work of Antioch's volunteer fire department.

Fireman Injures Wrist

One of the firemen—William Vos—was injured. When he broke a window glass with his fist to get into the building, his wrist was cut, and it was necessary for Captain Holbek of the Antioch Rescue squad to apply a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood.

The fire was discovered by John Rusko, the night watchman.

Objectors Protest Plan To Deadend State-line Road at U.S. Route 41

Don't Want Overpass for Russell Rd., Relocation Of Skokie Hwy.

An attempt to prevent State Line road becoming a dead end at Rte. 41 is being made by both the Fossland Brothers, John Noll and Earl Elliott, owners of property on the highway in Illinois.

Protest over the plan to block the east and west road off at the Wisconsin Freeway, and at the same time give Russell road an overpass over Rte. 41 was made by Atty. Jack Bairstow representing the Fosslands, and Mark Beaubien representing Noll and Elliott, during a public hearing Friday forenoon held by D. C. McGowan, chief district engineer for the State of Illinois at the Court House in Waukegan.

Because of the protest the hearing was continued until in January when Wisconsin highway officials will be asked to sit in.

Midnight Services Tuesday At Methodist, Episcopal, St. Peter's

Last minute shoppers searched frantically today (Monday) while eager-eyed children waited impatiently for the arrival of Santa Claus due to arrive sometime during Tuesday night—for Wednesday is Christmas Day.

With elaborate programs the various schools close Friday for the two-week vacation which will end Jan. 2.

College students are home and a number of men in military service were able to get leave to come home for the holidays. Others may get the chance to telephone home from distant points, while mail may have to do for those overseas.

Because of the religious significance of the event, the churches now will get the main attention outside the home.

Solemn High Mass will be sung at midnight Tuesday at St. Peter's church, where during the half hour preceding a program of Christmas carols will be sung.

The traditional Christmas eve service at the Methodist church will start at 11 p. m. The adult choir (continued on page 5)

Grassroots Opinion

BLAIR, WIS., PRESS: "Every government official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar was spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle of democratic government."

BOONE, IOWA, NEWS-REPUBLICAN: "...the experts say that seat belts really do make driving safer. Cornell (New York) University's committee on transportation safety research has this to say: 'From more than 5,000 case histories of injury-producing accidents we have reached conclusions which should remove all doubt of the effectiveness of belts in minimizing injuries in automobile accidents. In actual use properly designed and installed seat belts will increase a motorist's chance of escaping injury by nearly 60 per cent.'"

BEAVER FALLS, PA., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "Taxpayers are consistent in one respect. None ever complain about the amount being too low."

SISTERVILLE, W. VA., JOURNAL: "...the Government collected during just the past seven years $27 billion more than it collected during the previous 158 years."

BARTOW, FLA., DEMOCRAT: "Today the trend of many, many people to assume that the federal government should furnish the money... your money and my money... for the financing of our schools, for furnishing subsidies to farmers, for building roads and in other ways supplying us with things which early citizens once considered their personal obligations is already breaking down the rights of states to maintain a normal degree of sovereignty, which was a cardinal principal among gifted men who wrote the Constitution of these United States... to great a leaning in this direction can only bring about socialization."

EAST WEYMOUTH, MASS., GAZETTE: "The Post Office Department is the biggest business in the country and spends about $3,000,000,000 a year. It is, of course, a socialistic enterprise and there is no competition so there is no real pressure for efficiency or the elimination of waste."

"A New and Greater TVA"

A man who knows the Tennessee Valley Authority area—Robert M. Metcalf, Jr., Vice President of the Guaranty Mortgage and Trust Company of Memphis, Tennessee—has written a little article entitled "A New and Greater TVA."

He raises this question: "What would be the happiest solution of the problem posed by TVA—the best answer for the country as a whole and the residents in the TVA region?" Then he provides and documents an answer: "Sell the power generating facilities to the people in the area it serves."

That, Mr. Metcalf observes, would accomplish a number of great and desirable objectives in one stroke. First, it would "Reverse one of the biggest socialistic steps the U. S. has ever taken." Second, it would lift TVA off the backs of the nation's taxpayers. Third, it would place ownership and control of TVA in the hands of the people who patronize it and benefit from it. Fourth, it would give TVA the dynamism and flexibility of private enterprise. Fifth, it would eliminate the "... tyranny, abuse and graft of politics to which an institution like TVA is so subject." Sixth, and finally, it would stop the threat of a power shortage that constantly hangs over the TVA region because of dependence upon Congress for growth funds.

TVA as now constituted, with its direct and indirect subsidies and its virtual freedom from taxation, is a drain on the whole nation. All the rest of us are helping to pay the power bills of its customers. It would be equally logical to help pay their food bills, their housing bills, or any other bills.

Mr. Metcalf has an idea that really would result in "A New and Greater TVA." And it would be a sound TVA, instead of a monolithic example of freedom-destroying socialism.

Wright-Sandburg Tilt On Channel 11 Friday; Other Programs Told

WTTW-Channel 11's Frank Lloyd Wright-Carl Sandburg discussion will be repeated Friday evening, December 27.

Film of the conversation which was moderated by Alistair Cooke, will be a feature of a special show, "The Best of 11 in '57," to be seen from 8 to 10 p.m. Another 2-hour program, "Eleven Treats Await in '58," will be telecast from 8 to 10 the following Friday, Jan. 3.

The January 3 survey will introduce several new series to be seen on the educational station. Dr. Daniel Q. Posin, whose audience has been clamoring for his return, will outline a new science series. Other forthcoming series to be previewed are, one with the Fine Arts Quartet; "Discovery at Brookfield Zoo" with Mary Lela Grimes; ice skating lessons on "Totem Club"; "Kindergarten Time" for the young set; "Community of the Condemned" with Cook County Sheriff Joseph Lohman; a career series produced by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry; a new TV College course in local government, and "Doctors in Space," an analysis of the medical problems in space travel produced by KUHT in Houston. The show also will present excerpts of two of the recent NBC live series, which will be re-run at a more convenient hours—"Arts and the Gods; International Geo-physical Year."

Rochester High School Library Club Visits Salem Central Library

Visitors to Salem Central Welcomed On Thursday, December 12, Miss Frances Murphy, librarian of Rochester High School, together with a delegation of student librarians assistants made a trip to Salem Central High School for the purpose of visiting the high school library.

Principal A. H. Erickson welcomed the group and related to them the history and development of Salem Central's Library.

Miss Irene Bosman, high school librarian, led a group discussion pertaining to library service to fit the needs of high school students and faculty members.

After observing the facilities of Salem Central's library, a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed with Marjorie Liechardt, president of Salem Central's Library Club of 100 members, in charge.

Much is to be gained in the way of promoting better school library service through the mutual exchange of ideas among librarians and student assistant librarians.

Route Markers

WASHINGTON—A member of the Planning Commission here has suggested using balloons to mark the path of proposed new highways.

Donald Gingery suggested inflating large yellow balloons and stringing them in tree tops and other conspicuous places. Planners could then inspect the routes from the air, more effectively than "looking at maps."

New Vehicle Registration Card Larger in Size in '58

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 17—In answer to inquiries from motorists concerning the larger size of the motor vehicle registration card for 1958, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today pointed out that the card has been scored vertically so it can be readily folded.

Once folded, it will fit into a wallet, and if the extra area at the left of the card is trimmed off, it will also fit into the celluloid folders used for the old type registration card and the driver license, Mr. Carpenter said.

He also pointed out that the law does not require a motorist to carry the registration card with him.

Use of the new type form is saving taxpayers more than $60,000 a year, Secretary Carpenter said. It eliminated the necessity of making a fourth dexigraph copy of the application and the mailing of registration cards to persons who purchase their plates over the counter, he explained.

The saving in dexigraph paper, postage and envelopes offset by more than $60,000 the increased cost of the form, Secretary Carpentier said.

In addition, it provides over-the-counter purchasers with their registration cards immediately, where they formerly had to wait until the applications had gone through the dexigraph process and the cards were mailed to them, Mr. Carpenter said.

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of a sound mind.—(Timothy 1, 7.)

When we trust in God completely, we are freed from the fear and fearful imaginings which are born of human weakness. We become strong and courageous in the release and the exercise of the divine strength and power that is within us—the God-given spirit that fills and rules us when we let it do so.

YEAR-END TAX TIPS NUMBER 4

Steps That Could Save A Dependency Exemption

This is one of a series of four articles on federal income taxes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants.

As you check over the list of people you intend to claim as dependents on your 1957 tax return, keep this phrase in mind: more than one-half support.

This is the test of dependency. Unless the money you have contributed during the year is enough to make up more than one-half of a dependent's living costs, you might as well cross that person off your list. He or she will not qualify as a dependent for tax purposes—and you will lose a valuable $600 exemption on your 1957 return.

Taxpayers with children who work part-time or during the summer should watch this angle closely. It's not how much your child earns during the year—it's how much he contributes to his own support. The law specifically states that a parent may claim an exemption for a child, stepchild or adopted child under 19 years of age, no matter how much he earned, provided the child depended on the parent for more than one-half of his support.

Bank Child's Earnings

Here is an important point to remember when you are trying to decide whether you have contributed the necessary amount: the money a youngster banks or invests is not considered to be a contribution to his own support costs. Check carefully to see how much of your child's earnings has gone for his support. You may find that it will save an exemption on the family return if you have him bank his earnings for the rest of the year.

Supporting a Relative

If you have helped support a relative during the year, see to it that what you have contributed is enough to permit you to claim an exemption for this dependent. For example, you may have paid approximately $650 of your mother's $1,400 living expenses. By contributing another $550 or $600 to her support before December 31, you can push the total over the more-than-half mark of $700 and gain an additional exemption.

Or, if you shared with others in the support of a parent, take steps now to insure that one of you can qualify for an exemption. Make sure, first of all, that your combined contributions were enough to total more than one-half of the parent's living expenses. Then, have all the members of the group that contributed 10 per cent or more of the parent's support sign Multiple Support Agreements, granting one

Gal Graduates Would Go To College Again

NEW YORK—Is college education truly worthwhile for women?

According to nearly 6,000 Barnard College alumnae the answer is an overwhelming yes. If they had their lives to lead all over again only twenty-three alumnae, or a minute half of one per cent said they would not attend college.

The answer to this question, and sixty-seven others, were released in one of the most comprehensive surveys ever undertaken by a women's college. Exactly 5,757, or 56 per cent of the 10,200 alumnae who were polled, answered the questionnaire sent by the Barnard Alumnae Association to all the living alumnae, ranging from Barnard's first class of 1893 through the class of 1955.

While the survey covered women ranging in age from twenty to eighty-seven years old, the bulk of the respondents were between twenty-three and fifty-two. In terms of origin, these women are predominantly Easterners, but with a strong national and international representation.

Childbearing Now Safer Than Ever in History

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Childbearing is now safer than ever before, according to the statisticians.

In 1956, when registered births in the United States reached a record high of 4,168,000, less than 1,600 deaths were reported due to complications of pregnancy and childbirth. This is only one maternal death for every 2,700 live-born babies.

The 1956 maternal mortality rate of 3.8 per 10,000 live births represents a reduction of about one-half in the last five years, and of about three-fourths in the last decade.

Despite these excellent gains in making childbearing safe, continuing effort is necessary to further reduce the maternal mortality rate, the statisticians declare. The medical profession is constantly striving to improve the care of women during pregnancy and childbirth.

The complaint of the traffic violation was filed by Police Chief Walter I. Scott.

Gov. Stratton Suggests Substitute for Liquor at Holiday Office Parties

Office parties at which the principal refreshment is alcoholic beverages creates a serious problem during the holiday season. Governor William G. Stratton has urged companies to give a party for the children of employees or a charitable institution with the money that would ordinarily be spent for liquor.

However, if a party involving liquor must be held, then Governor Stratton suggests a taxi pool be formed to transport inebriated guests to their homes. He reminded motorists that one feature of his traffic safety legislation this year was the setting of chemical standards for intoxication. Intoxicated drivers lose their license and may go to jail.

The safest and most rewarding use to which money ordinarily spent on Christmas parties could be put would be to have a party with gifts for a children's home or even for the children of the employees of the office or plant. Christmas is not as happy a time in an institution for child inmates as it is at home with a family.

Old age, survivors and disability payments are now being received by more than half of all the 15 million people aged 65 or over in this country, according to the National Industry Conference Board. By way of comparison, in 1948 only one person in eight in this age bracket received such benefits.

Scientists Have Long Studied Moon's Surface

WASHINGTON—For centuries man has dreamed of setting foot on the moon. Today scientists are talking seriously about sending manned rockets to it in a matter of years.

The moon is the earth's closest neighbor. It orbits around the earth at an average distance of 238,857 miles. This is about 10 times the circumference of the earth, but in astronomical terms the distance is negligible. Some stars lie so far away that it takes hundreds of millions of years for their light to reach the earth.

Galileo and other astronomers carefully studied the surface features of the moon after the invention of the telescope. They believed that dark patches on the moon were oceans and lakes, and gave them such names as the Sea of Serenity and the Ocean of Storms. Astronomers now know that these "seas" and "oceans" are completely dry plains.

The moon has almost no atmosphere to protect it from the rays of the sun during the day or to hold the sun's heat by night. Hence lunar temperatures shoot from about 243 degrees below zero Fahrenheit in darkness to about 212 degrees above during the day.

Flu Recovery Period Important

CHICAGO—The recovery period following an attack of influenza—or any other respiratory ailment—may be the most important days of your life.

Overly-restricted diets during convalescence may lead to other health problems, according to Dr. James R. Wilson, Chicago medical nutritional consultant and former secretary of the Council of Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association. He has this to say:

"Flu victims may spend up to two weeks in bed with the symptoms of severe colds, respiratory and flu-like infections. During this time, these patients often are on inadequate diets.

"The U. S. Public Health Service, as of the middle of October, reported the cumulative number of respiratory illnesses at 50,700,000. Many of these patients rely on self-medication. They stay for too long on an inadequate diet.

John Nelson, Zion-Benton guard, won individual scoring honors through three games played in the invitational tournament for sophomore teams at Waukegan.

Nelson with 69 points sparked his team to third place in the tournament.

Louis Holdorf, 50, Is Object of Charges Following Collision

Louis Holdorf, 50, of the Tarfu Club, Grass Lake road, is scheduled to appear in court of Justice of the Peace Lindvall in Waukegan to answer to a charge of drunken driving filed by sheriff's deputies following collisions of his car in Antioch and Rte. 173.

A Trevor resident said he saw Holdorf first drive his car into a Jay's Potato Chip light truck at Main and Lake streets, and then drive on without reporting the accident.

The Trevor man told police he followed Holdorf west on Rte. 173 where the latter's car traveling on the wrong side of the roadway rammed into a tractor trailer just west of Tiffany road.

Deputies Fred Zeason and William Wood, Jr., said the tractor-trailer was driven by Fred Osinga, 6500 49th avenue, Kenosha, and was going east on Rte. 173. Osinga told the officers he swung his truck to the shoulder of the road in an attempt to avoid the collision and scraped a guard rail for 100 feet.

The officers said that Holdorf's auto rammed the truck on the front, smashing the bumper and fender and damaging the entire left side. Then his car skidded into the parking lot at the Antioch Recreation and stopped.

Holdorf was also charged with having no driver's license. He refused medical treatment for his injury.

This nation's first atomic-powered merchant ship is expected to be completed in 1960. She will carry the designation NS, for nuclear ship, instead of the traditional SS. She will be named the Savannah, after the first ship to cross the Atlantic under steam power.

HEALTH HINTS

By Dr. Frank G. Plouffe, President,
National Chiropractic Association

Winter's Public Health Enemy No. 1

More people die of obesity—sheer fat—during the winter months than from common colds, pneumonia, heart attacks from shovelling snow, exposure to zero winds, or from slipping on icy sidewalks. The long nights at home, with the refrigerator within easy reach, present a temptation few can ignore. The pride in a sleek, young figure in a bathing suit, the exercise of golf, swimming or home gardening, are no more. With the surrender to bulky, heavy, warm clothing, the waist-line begins to bulge and the chins to multiply.

Everybody has a pet remedy for the common cold, but obesity yields only to will power. The doctor of chiropractic says: "If you don't want to take it off, at least don't put it on." He cannot recommend some pill which will slendelize in a couple of weeks, for he knows that the user must have a better-than-average constitution to use them; and there is still danger.

Dieting is not only a matter of eating less, but also of eating less fattening foods; less bread and all other starches; less fats and less sugar. Menus should consist chiefly of meats, fresh fruits, and green vegetables. The amount depends on age and the nature of work of the dieter. The appetite must be trained to do without butter, candy, etc., and periodical nibbling between meals must be conquered. In all probability, more weight is added through the "before going to bed" snack than in any other way. Underweight persons who desire to gain weight are advised to eat hot buttered cereals with honey and cream before retiring. This is the tip-off to those who are reducing to do the opposite.

For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? —St. Matthew 16, 26.)

So often, these days, so many of us sacrifice so much to make "big" money—to "hit the jackpot" of fame or fortune—and we ignore the inner longing that is our soul. Somehow we think that this can wait until we have made ourselves secure in success... But, who knows the day and hour of his death?

The Life You Save

Two out of three pedestrian accidents are the fault of the pedestrian. This, says the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety, puts it into the pedestrians' power to cut this type from the total of pedestrian deaths and effect a 65 per cent saving of lives.

School Referendums At Grant, Wauconda Favor Tax Proposals

After three unsuccessful attempts to get school tax increases both proposals passed in referendums at Grant High and Wauconda Grade schools Saturday afternoon.

At Grant the vote was 1,160 in favor and 1,056 opposed with 34 spoiled ballots in a proposal to raise the educational tax from 75 to 98 cents on the $100 assessed valuation.

A similar proposal was beaten the last time by 115 votes. A total of 2,256 votes were cast this time. Still only half the potential number of parents of high school students went to the polls.

At Wauconda a proposal to issue $475,000 in bonds to build a 17-room grade school addition passed 317 to 171, a comparatively small vote. A total of 590 persons went to the polls. Seventh and eighth grade pupils will be removed from the high school when the addition is constructed, giving more room to the increased number of students.

Driving Somewhere For Christmas? Then Take These Few Tips

That drive you take this week to spend Christmas with family or friends will be easier and more fun if you do a little planning now. Miss Carol Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil company, offers a few tips for holiday motor-vists.

First, about the gifts. This is especially important if you take things the children can open Christmas morning.

Wrap the gifts now and pack them in a carton. You can slide it into the trunk at the last minute. This will save time and avoid damage that can occur if gifts are tumbled in.

If you make the round trip on Christmas day, the children will probably open their gifts before you leave home. They will want to take some of their own things with them. Let them take small gifts that occupy little space in the car and that they can enjoy and share at someone else's house.

Second, about the car. You'll probably leave it outside if you go for an overnight visit. If there's a chance of cold weather, be sure the car is ready.

And third, Miss Lane has a suggestion for you personally. Christmas is wonderful but wearing. Try to do your driving before it gets too late, and avoid the hazards of fatigue.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Sibley are spending the Christmas holidays with their daughter, Mrs. Richard Carter and family at Dayton, Ohio.

Youthful Burglars Get Fine, Make Restitution

David Walters, 18, of Grass Lake road was fined $100 and ordered last Thursday by Judge Minard E. Hulse to make restitution for his part in the theft of money recently from the Antioch Recreation.

His buddy, Norman Wojczynski, 18, of Lindenhurst, was fined, placed on one year probation and ordered to make restitution.

The judge refused to put Walters on probation because he entered the air force that day and probation would keep him out.

The two took $1,100 from the bowling alley on Oct. 28, but alert police apprehended them and recovered much of the money.

Farm fires cost farmers about 145 million dollars last year, according to estimates from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Three Hurt Thursday In Separate Crashes On Antioch Streets

Three persons were hurt, none seriously in three accidents Thursday afternoon in Antioch.

Police said that Jeffrey John Wagner, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagner of rural Antioch ran from among cars on Lake street in front of a car driven by John Augburger, 42, of Rte. 21 and was knocked down.

The boy was treated for a head cut at the Antioch Clinic.

In another accident an hour and a half later at 4:05 p. m. Mrs. Marie Brandes, 42, of Silver Lake, Wis., received a scalp wound and an injury to one finger in an automobile collision on North avenue east of the Soo Line tracks. She was taken to Victory Memorial hospital by the Antioch Rescue squad where she was given care and later released.

Her car and the car driven by Stanley Scymanski, 29, of Antioch, collided, and while she was hurt, neither Scymanski nor his wife, Regina, was hurt.

Less than five minutes later a three-car accident at Rte. 173 and Harden street sent Elizabeth Freund, 16, of R.F.D. 1, Antioch to a doctor for treatment of minor injuries.

Antioch police said that Miss Freund stopped her car headed east on Harden street at the stop sign. Another car driven by Richard Kopecky, 17, was headed northwest on Rte. 173 and paused to make a left turn at Harden street, when Miss Freund pulled out into the intersection, and according to police was hit by a third car coming from the southeast and driven by Mrs. Beverly Knutsen, 22, of rural Antioch.

After hitting the Freund car, the Knutsen car struck the Kopecky car. All drivers were alone in the three cars.

Residents of the area believe this is the first accident that has ever occurred at this intersection.

Feb. 1 Date of Exams In Illinois Schools For State Scholarships

"With our new state scholarship program, Illinois will take the lead in conserving and developing our most precious asset—brainpower," Lloyd S. Michael, chairman of the newly formed Illinois State Scholarship commission, and Superintendent, Evanston Township High School, said today.

Illinois high school seniors will compete on February 1, for $600,000 in first-year scholarships to Illinois colleges and universities, announced Dr. Michael. The Illinois High School Association is cooperating in this important program by clearing its schedule of all conflicting activities on February 1.

Science Research Associates of Chicago, a nationally prominent educational testing and consulting organization, has been retained to construct, administer and score the competitive examinations. The examinations will be held on college and university campuses throughout the state. Test results, and the students' high school records, will be used to determine capacity to profit from higher education.

The new House Bill No. 380 enacted by the Illinois General Assembly, provides scholarships for any resident of the State of Illinois of good character who will have completed high school by the end of this school year, is in the upper half of his class, who demonstrates superior capacity to profit from college work, and who is unable to finance his college training. Honorary awards will be given to students who qualify for scholarships but who are not in need of financial aid, stated Dr. Lyman J. Smith, executive director, who will assume his new duties on January 1, 1958.

Dr. Smith's new appointment places him in charge of the first scholarship program directly financed by the State of Illinois. Until he can assume his duties, the Commission has retained Harold E. Temmer as acting director. Mr. Temmer is Associate Dean of Admissions and Records of the Chicago Undergraduate Division, Navy Pier, of the University of Illinois. Students not currently in high school should contact the Commission office in Chicago directly. Students who have had any college work are not eligible for scholarships. All students attending high schools are instructed to consult their high school office for an official bulletin and an application for examination.

Scholarships will begin with the 1958-59 school year and will cover tuition and other fees not in excess of $600. Winners may select any accredited institution of higher learning in Illinois.

The first-year scholarships will be awarded on the basis of two for residents of each Illinois senatorial district, two for residents of each representative district, and a sufficient number for residents of the state at large to use the remainder of the appropriation. Each scholarship is renewable without further competitive examination.

Family Band Now Entertains Antioch Area With Fine Music

So musical are the members of the Paul Zeien Jr. family of Channel Lake, that they have made up a band that is providing much entertainment for the community. Recently they played at the social hour following the Antioch Township High School concert and on Friday at the St. Peter's School Christmas party. The members, left to right, Peter, trombonist; Kathleen, clarinetist; Helen Mae, bass drum; Mrs. Helen Zeien, the mother, snare drum and sound effects; Patrick, mascot and librarian; Paul Zeien Jr., the father, tuba; Michael, second trumpet; and Joseph, first trumpet.

Grant Still Champion In Defeat of Antioch Here Friday 56 to 45

The Grant High School Bulldogs are still the Northwest Conference champions as evidenced by their defeat of the Antioch Sequoias here Friday night 56 to 45.

The season is still young, however, and the two teams will meet again. The Grant Sophs imitated their varsity brethren by defeating the Antioch underclassmen 52 to 47.

The defeat at the hands of the Ingleside team was the first conference loss for the Sequoias. But for a bad third quarter the Antioch boys played Grant on even terms.

Antioch started out with a zone defense, but this was ineffective and the Leon men changed to a man-to-man defense which resulted in personal fouls. The Bulldogs used stalling tactics effectively.

The game at the half was a tie, 23-23, but in the third quarter Grant annexed 16 points and held the Sequoias to five. This was practically the victory.

Grenell, Grant ace, guard, was the big worry for Antioch. He scored seven field goals, and a total of 19 points. Norris was second high man for Grant with 16 points.

For the Sequoias Herbst was high man and came through with a good game while Hanke was just behind him with 15 points.

The summary of the game follows:

Baking Is Part Of Holiday Fun

Just as much a part of the holidays as mistletoe and holly are extra-special baked goodies. If you've never baked a Christmas tree cake, simply for lack of tree-shaped pans, here is good news. You can bake a chiffon cake in a large rectangular pan, cut it to shape using the method described below, and have a Christmas tree cake that will do you proud.

For dependable results with chiffon cakes, use the modern vegetable-oil method. One with a natural golden color will give your baking an appetizing look to match the fine flavor.

CHRISTMAS TREE CHERRY CHIFFON CAKE

Yield: 9 x 13 x 2-inch cake

1/2 cup Jewel Oil
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 egg yolks
1/4 cup maraschino cherry juice
1/2 cup cherries

1/4 cup water
2/3 cup egg whites (5-6)
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 cup sugar
7-Minute Frosting (using 4 egg whites)
Long colored gum drops

Sift into a mixing bowl the flour, 3/4 cup sugar, salt, and baking powder. Make a hollow in the dry ingredients and add the Jewel Oil, egg yolks, cherry juice, cherries and water in the order given. Beat with a spoon until smooth.

Put egg whites in a big mixing bowl. Add cream of tartar. Beat with electric or rotary beater until whites form soft peaks. Add 1/4 cup sugar gradually, beating after each addition. Beat until meringue is stiff enough to not slide when bowl is inverted. Pour egg yolk mixture over meringue. Gently fold egg yolk mixture into meringue until well blended.

Pour into ungreased 9 x 13 x 2-inch pan. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Invert pan until cake is cool.

Cut a 2-inch strip from the 9-inch side of cake. Cut in half to make 2-layer tree trunk. From remaining large piece of cake find center of 9-inch side. Cut from center point to corners, to form a tree shape. Put corners together to form bottom layer of cake. Spread Seven-Minute Frosting over bottom layer. Cover with top layer and frost outside.

Put 6 long licorice gumdrops vertically on trunk of tree. Alternate long colored gumdrops along sides of tree for ornamented branches.

Before you put your car in motion be sure no one is in your path or that you do not suddenly get in someone else's way. Be particularly careful when you are backing up in a parking space, along a road, out of your garage, or when intending to pull out of a parking space, going into another road or a private driveway. Look back through the rear mirror first, observe pedestrians or approaching vehicles. Take no unnecessary chances. Do not move your car until you can safely do so.

Objectors Protest.....

M. E. Amstutz, Lake County highway superintendent, said that the state has spent between $40,000 and $50,000 improving a four-mile stretch of the road.

Baird wants the state to discard the Russell road overpass of Rte. 41 and make possible a service road to enter it and Rte. 41.

As far back as 1948 the Fosslands decided the Wisconsin portion of their farm to that state for relocation of Rte. 41, and was promised a 56-foot outlet onto the highway.

Atty. Beaubien said that the six filling stations in Illinois on Rte. 41 now pay $250,000 in tax to the state annually and the state would lose much, if their business is killed by re-location of Rte. 41.

Maps show that the Tri-State Toll Road will enter Rte. 41 200 feet north of Edwards road and from there on to the state line Rte. 41 will be a freeway just as it is in Wisconsin.

Under present plans Rte. 41 will go straight north instead of curving at the Cermak farm north of Rte. 173 and that portion that now curves west and then goes on a line from Millcreek road to the state line will be used merely as a two-lane service road.

Rte. 41 will go east of Fosslands and connect at the state line with the Wisconsin 41 freeway.

Entrance to the new toll road will be at Rte. 173.

The date for the continuation of the hearing was not set.

Churches and Homes....

The Sunday School children presented their program Sunday morning, then the pastor, the Rev. Howard Benson gave the children sermon programs of worship to be used by the family on Christmas Day.

Next Sunday will be observed as Student Recognition Day and college students home for vacation will participate in the service.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran church will have its Christmas service at 10:30 a. m. Christmas Day at the church on Rte. 21. The service directed by the pastor, the Rev.

R. P. Otto will be mainly music and scripture.

This evening (Monday) the children will give their program at the Antioch Grade School auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

Lakeland Baptist Church
The first service ever held in the new Lakeland Baptist Church on Grand avenue west of Lake Villa was the choir's presentation of the Christmas cantata, "Christmas Angels," Friday evening.

The largest attendance since Easter was evidenced at the first day-time services Sunday morning in both the church service and the Sunday School. Five Antioch persons were received into membership by the Rev. Dale Van Hovel.

Episcopal Church Plans
A party for the children of St. Ignatius' Episcopal church was held Sunday evening, and Tuesday night the traditional Christmas eve service at 11:30 p. m. will be held. A service at 9:30 a. m. will be held on Christmas Day.

Willow Dale Dairy.....

went out into the plant to get a bucket of drinking water, and when I returned five minutes later —poof—a corner of the office room was all ablaze," he told an Antioch News reporter.

"It spread so fast that I was unable to get to my coat and it was burned up," he complained.

Night Watchman Gives Alarm
Rusko said he turned in the alarm immediately.

The fire department soon had two tank trucks and a jeep on the scene and got the fire under control within a half hour. A 1,200-foot line of hose was strung to the nearest fire plug and water was pumped by the trucks.

Smoldering cartons and other material stored in the building made necessary a watch on the building by the firemen until nearly midnight. Adjoining the office is the boiler room.

The plant is owned by Sam Lerner of Highland Park, who because of illness did not come to the fire, but left the work of repairs to his assistants.

Much of the milk processed by the firm is sold through vending machines.

Need of a new water main west of the Soo Line track from Williams street which has been under consideration was more in evidence as the result of this fire. The fire plugs now are too far away from industry at this point to be the most efficient means of fighting fires. The fog spray from the tank trucks, and the "wet" water were the most effective in this instance, but had not the fire doors been closed and the fire spread to the rest of the plant, volume water would have been needed.

The Willow Dale Dairy is west of the Soo Line track two blocks north of Depot street.

Boom in Skilled Jobs In 60's and '70's Predicted

A massive demand for workers in nearly every type of occupation and industry will come with the U. S. economic boom in the 60's and 70's, predict the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. In a copyrighted article in the December issue of the magazine, the editors state that 10,000,000 jobs will be added to the work force by 1965, another 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 by 1975.

The well-educated and the highly skilled will have greater opportunities than ever before. Semi-professional and semi-skilled workers will be in heavy demand, too. And openings will be about at all levels for women, for part-timers and for older employees.

In manufacturing, employment will be up 28 per cent in 1965, 56 per cent in 1975. The fastest growth will be in the manufacture of transport equipment, machinery, metal products, paper products and chemicals. The heaviest employment needs will be for semiskilled machine operators, including women, and for salespeople, managers and technicians.

New industries developing during the 60's and 70's will mean new jobs. One large company expects that 80 per cent of its output ten years from now will be items not developed today.

In the atomic energy field, jobs will multiply with a strong demand for chemists, nuclear physicists, mathematicians, biochemists and nuclear and other kinds of engineers. Many semiprofessional technicians will be needed for inspection and decontamination teams.

Electronics manufacturing will require thousands of new engineers, draftsmen, office workers, as well as skilled and semiskilled plant workers.

Plastic-products manufacturing, a relatively new industry, will hire faster than most other industries. Most openings will be for inexperienced workers who will be trained on the job.

There will be a big rise in construction where most jobs will be filled by craftsmen and other skilled workers.

Jobs in the wholesale and retail trades will swell 45 per cent by 1975 with work at that time for more than 19,000,000 people in sales, clerical and managerial positions.

Demand will grow in local and state governments for all kinds of teachers, nurses, engineers, office help, policemen, postmen, and skilled workers.

In the finance, insurance and real estate fields, jobs will increase by 80 per cent in 1975. Nearly half the employees in this field are women.

Growth in the professional occupations has been three times as fast as for the rest of the work force, and swift expansion will continue. Biggest needs will be for teachers, engineers, natural and physical scientists, technicians and medical people.

In the clerical and sales occupations, the demand for operators of automatic data-processing equipment will leap. The heavy turnover in stenographers, typists and secretaries will continue, assuring jobs for newcomers. The high turnover in sales occupations will provide a wide variety of openings.

The service occupations will continue to have heavy turnover, but most industries in this field will have lots of room for part-timers, women and older workers.

There will be a big need for all kinds of skilled workers, particularly for industrial machinery repairmen, electronics technicians, business machine repairmen and building trades workers.

Although there will be more machines to do the work of people today, the over-all growth of the economy will pull up the slack. Machines will actually help double the output per worker in the next 25 years. Growth in the manufacturing industries will offset job reductions caused by automation. And demand will spur for skilled hands to develop, produce, operate and repair the new machines in industry and the home.

HEALTH HINTS

By Dr. Frank G. Plauder, President,
National Chiropractic Association

"— And How's Your Liver?"

Not so many years back it was customary, when inquiring about somebody's health, to ask, "How's your liver?" The decline of this query hasn't altered the understanding about the vital importance of the liver and another member of this blood-purifying team: the gall bladder. Both are vital because neither have "spares". The human body is blessed with two of certain organs: the eyes, the ears, the kidneys, and others. If one kidney ceases to function, the other can carry the overload and operate. The heart, the liver and the gall bladder are single entities. Knock them out and the final epitaph must be written.

Actually, the liver isn't an organ but is, rather, a large gland, irregular in shape, reddish brown, and soft. It receives the blood from the heart, filters and stores the food elements, makes important changes in proteins, eliminates poisonous substances, and secretes bile in the gall bladder. If there are dietetic abuses, there can be ruptures, infection, atrophy, falling, a change of the fibre known as cirrhosis (hardening), fatty degeneration, and tumors.

Anyone who has drawn a fat hen will note the liver may be very light and very soft, so that it spreads under the fingers. This is "fatty degeneration", caused by too much rich food and not enough exercise. The human liver in adipose persons acts similarly under these abuses. Fatty degeneration ensues.

The liver will not function normally and may become diseased if there is interference of normal nerve energy to the liver. This calls for chiropractic restoration of this force. Impediments of nerve force can also act similarly on the gall bladder. Chiropractic care and correct diet are recommended as an aid to nature in restoring these organs to normal function.

What Is It?

Look closely and you'll see. It's an ornamental wall candle holder! Because brass is soft and easy to work with, it's used for a host of products— toys, wall decorations and novelties in general — whose intricate shapes would make them prohibitively costly were it not for the malleable metal.

For Thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon Thee.— (Psalm 66, 5.)

Our Heavenly Father is all-good, all-love, all-mercy, all-wisdom. He hears every sincere prayer for forgiveness and help. The gift of His loving-kindness is not measured, but is abundant beyond human conception.

Safety Rules for Boy's First Gun

If you are giving your son a gun for Christmas, don't just hand it to him with the simple admonition "be careful," warn the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. You should see that he gets adequate instruction and that he uses the gun only under the supervision of an experienced adult.

Competent instruction is widely available today through rifle clubs, many of which are in high schools and junior highs. Membership in such a club solves the problem of where a boy may do his shooting after he has learned how.

In addition to this basic instruction, there are five safety rules which your son should learn by heart for his future well-being:

1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded.
2. Keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction—away from everyone, including yourself.
3. Be sure of your target.
4. Be sure of your backstop. Backstops have one purpose—to stop the bullet. Continued firing may wear some away.
5. Know your gun and ammunition. Only a clean gun in good condition is safe. And make sure your ammunition is the right kind for the gun you are using.

Can Men Live as Long as Women?

Why do American women live longer than men?

Health Information Foundation suggests today that it is a challenge to medical science to find an answer to this question "before American males—especially at age 45 and beyond—become in effect an underprivileged segment of the population."

In its monthly statistical bulletin "Progress in Health Services," the Foundation stated: "Each year over 200,000 more men than women die in this country. . . . Already there are 7,700,000 widows in our population, and the number is expected to rise sharply in the years ahead." Last year, according to H.I.F., the death rate for males was 9.6 per 1,000 population—a rate more than 50 per cent higher than that for females. And the gap has been widening steadily since 1900, except for the years following the influenza epidemic of 1918.

Ironically, the imbalance between male and female death rates is itself partly the result of medical progress. In countries where standards of living and medical care are low, the Foundation noted, there has been an excess female mortality

Wins Baton Championship

Christine Moser, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moser of Antioch holds the first place trophy she won Dec. 8 in the six-state baton twirling contest at North Chicago. She had four other trophies and five medals to show for the four years she has been twirling the baton. She is a pupil of the Eugene Shea School at Waukegan.

until recently, partly because of the hazards attending childbirth.

In this country, female mortality in childbirth has fallen from 20,000 lives in 1900 to just under 1,600 in 1956. Today the Foundation said, this cause of death "no longer represents a significant aspect of the problem."

In the past half-century, the degenerative diseases have replaced communicable illnesses as leading causes of death. The degenerative diseases, as a rule, are more of a threat to men than to women. In 1955, for example, heart disease caused an excess male mortality of 78 per cent; cancer, an excess male mortality of 20 per cent.

Accidents are another major cause of excess male deaths, according to the Foundation; despite a marked decline in their rate of frequency since 1900. At ages 20 to 24, for instance, male mortality from accidents is 500 per cent higher than female.

It is possible, the Foundation suggested, that there are biological reasons why women are the healthier sex. "But it's also possible that men are more subject to the tensions of modern urban life.

Paradoxically, although women live longer than men, they appear to have more illnesses. In any event, they see the doctor more frequently, while many men "still seem governed by the philosophy of an earlier age, when it was commonly assumed that illness did not exist until it was confirmed by medical consultation."

Foundation President George Bugbee pointed out: "There is, of course, no simple explanation of why women generally live longer than men. But it is important for medical science to find ways of overcoming the imbalance—and it is important for men as well as women to accept the benefits medical science can bring."

Farmers' Tax Forms And Filing Due Date

Yes, they're here, the 1957 tax forms. They are now available for general distribution at all Internal Revenue offices, according to H. Alan Long, District Director of Internal Revenue.

Taxpayers who filed returns last year will get their tax blanks and instructional material through the mail.

Farmers will receive tax packages during the last week of this month and early in January. The package for farmers will include an instruction booklet, Forms 1040 and 1040-ES, Schedules F and D.

Available to farmers again this year is the "Farmers' Tax Guide," which may be obtained within a short time, free of charge, from Internal Revenue branch offices and from county agents. As in the past year, the 64-page booklet incorporates many features of interest to farmers and will include this year, interpretations of several new rulings regarding farm tax problems.

And finally, the farmer has a choice of filing. He may file an estimate on January 15th and pay at least two-thirds of his tax, then complete payment and file the final return 1040 by April 15th. Or, he may file his final return 1040 and pay the total tax due on Feb. 15.

Debbie Dixon, 5, of Arlington, Texas, 1957 Muscular Dystrophy Child, symbolizes more than 200,000 American victims of the crippling, fatal disease. Research funds are being sought by Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America through the nation-wide March For Muscular Dystrophy. Savings of $400 million in manufacturing costs were effected last year by the use of radioactive isotopes.

In his address on Soviet vs. American scientific achievements, the President laid stress on "... the failure of us in this country to give high enough priority to scientific education and to the place of science in our national life." He added that there is a critical need for more basic research in both government and private industry.
